FiloSlim LV cable jointing system

FiloSlim!, The smartest cable joint system that insulates and protects your low voltage cable connections.

The components of this hybrid cable joint system are completely interchangeable. You can fill the cable joint with our tried and trusted injection pump or simply by hand.

The FiloSlim resin package comes with an integrated filling nipple. After mixing the resin, the package is placed on the injection valve and opened with a quarter turn. Once the cable joint is filled, remove the packaging with a reverse quarter turn. This simple action ensures that both the injection valve and the resin packaging are rendered completely leak proof.

Approved in accordance with NEN EN50393

PATENTED

Features

- Fast building up of isolation distance with 3D mesh.
- Flexible transparent tape for making a liquid-tight seal.
- Hybrid injection valve suitable for filling the cable joint manually or with the injectionpump.
- Universal neck seal for use with branch joints to prevent resin leakage between the cables.
- Strong leak-free resin packaging
- Closed filling system with bayonet connection for a clean processing.
- Resin packaging and the injection valve completely closes when disconnected.
- The open structure of the mesh and low viscosity of the resin make it possible to inject the resin manually.
- Excellent electrical insulation, mechanical protection and sealing against moisture.
